AN EXPLOSION.

Two Engineers, One Fireman and a Conductor Killed.

Several Other Railroad Employees Injured. Engineer Convey Buried Against Rocks and Ever Ready in His Arms. Broken-Engine a Week.

READING, Pa., Nov. 15.—A frightful boiler explosion occurred on the Reading road a short distance above Schuylkill, about midnight Sunday night.

Five men were killed and several injured. The killed were, Engineer Wm. Convey, and his fireman, Wm. Moyer; Engineer Harrison Allison, Conductor Kendrick, and another man whose name has not been learned.

Michael Dobbin, a brakeman, was badly injured. The engine had just finished making a shift and was about to start a train. The moment the steam was applied the explosion followed.

Covey was hurled against rocks, and every bone in his body was crushed. Moyer was hurled 100 yards away into a field. The others lay near the wreck.

The engine was No. 503 and belonged to the freight trade. On Sunday she was put in the coal trade, and at the time of the accident was on her way to Palo Alto. The locomotive is a complete wreck.

Covey and Moyer belonged to another crew, and were dead-heading it home to Palo Alto. The others belonged to the engine which exploded.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

The Murder, Incarceration and Robbery of Rich Farmer Swarthout Credited to His Two Sons.

MORRISON, Ill., Nov. 15.—The murder and creation of M. Swarthout, a wealthy farmer, has created great excitement throughout the county. Sunday Swarthout's two sons were arrested for the crime, and it is feared that they will be lynched. Swarthout lived in Lynden township, eight miles south of here. Thursday evening he was shot to death, but did not return here. Search was begun, and in the ashes of a straw pile on his farm his partly consumed body was found. Examination showed that he had been murdered and robbed, and the body had been stuffed into the straw pile. The straw was then set on fire. He was known to have carried a large sum of money. The evidence pointed to his sons.

A Desperate Irish Criminal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Col. Weber Monday received information that a desperate Irish criminal is on his way to this country, sent here by the British authorities. His name is Wm. Nagle, and he was undergoing a twenty years' sentence in the Dublin penitentiary. The government, it is alleged, pardoned Nagle on condition that he join his brother in this country. They gave the convict sufficient money to come here. Nagle will be stopped and returned to Ireland.

How Coster's Rapid Transit.

LOREY, Nov. 15.—The Times Vienna correspondent says: At a recent meeting of the society of engineers here Coster described his invention of an electric railway, calling into use a locomotive which will travel 125 miles an hour. The building of a railway of this description is proposed to be built along the banks of Danube, from Vienna to Buda Pesth. Each carriage will be provided with a motor and will be designed to carry forty persons.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 15.—The employees of J. GERMAN ARMY BILL.

More Than Six Hundred Thousand Men Constantly Under Arms.

Under the Law, in Time of War, the Military Budget of the German Empire—Germany's Tremendous Debt-Increased Population.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 15.—Finance is gradually getting the better of politics, and a decision between the two must be coming on apace. With a debt of four billion marks, an unredressed note issue of about an equal amount, and a several years' deficit of something like $500,000,000, Germany has again failed to raise the contemplated loan in France. Ardent as they may wish to play off Russia against Germany, the French decline to send money to their neighbor to ally in his straits. As the London and Berlin markets are likewise closed to them, it follows that the Russians have got to be pacified or else to play some desperate trick if they wish to try and make things square. Though incomparably better off, Germany and France, to say nothing of Austria, Italy and the minor fry, are following in the wake of the tottering czar.

Nothing daunted by the deficit of 50,000,000 marks, the German government proposes to add 100,000 men to its standing army at an outlay of 100,000,000 marks a year, so formidable an increase being required to restore the military equilibrium between the triple and dual alliances. Germany, as Italy and Austria are losing breath, thinks herself obliged to bear the brunt of the day, and do alone what her friends are avowedly unable to take a hand in. A few figures will elucidate the strain put upon Germany in consequence.

The German population, notwithstanding an excess of 30,000 a year, has increased 20 per cent. within the last twenty years. Of the 25,000,000 males included in 51,000,000 inhabitants, about 8,700,000 being between 20 and 45 years of age, are liable to serve when called upon. Under the new bill rather more than 800,000 men are to be kept constantly under arms, all able-bodied men being now for the first time placed in the ranks. This will cause the cancellation of 100,000 exemptions hitherto annually granted for reasons of economy. If this a fearful tax to bear in times of peace, the burden will be incomparably augmented in war, when, with an annual recruitment of 250,000 men, liable to serve twenty-four years in line and reserve, the army, after allowing for deaths and invalids, must be estimated at about 6,000,000, or two-thirds of all able-bodied males in the prime of life.

The present figure of 4,300,000 was considered the acme of military effort compatible with the continuance of civil life; the future total suggests no longer an army, but an armed nation, on the pattern of the ancient Teutonic tribes when on the war-path. What was natural enough two thousand years ago is the reverse in these modern times; what was a spontaneous effort on the part of primitive tribes, rejoicing in dealing and receiving death, is left an accursed infliction upon a pacific race bent upon defense only, and threatened by French vanity and Russian savagery, nevertheless. Looking upon things from a purely mathematical point of view, and drawing inevitable conclusions therefrom, it is hardly to be wondered at that the leading military writers of Great Britain should just have combined to pile a volume on the chances of what they represent as "the immediate impending war."

"Whereas, The national democratic platform denounces protection as a fraud and a robbery and declares it to be unconstitutional, and with these declarations submitted the matter to the people; therefore,

"Resolved, That the tidal wave which swept the country last Tuesday was a righteous condemnation of protection.

"Resolved, That we will not support the pledges of the democratic party and hitherto its continued success every utterance on the part of its accredited leaders which tends to justify perpetuation of any vestige of the protective system.

"Resolved, Labor has demanded justice, when monopolists seek protection they should ask it by its right name, and at the place provided for the needy, and not strive to turn the national government into a gigantic pauper institution."

Ohio Penitentiary Statistics.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Chaplain W. R. Dudley, of the penitentiary, has compiled his annual report of prison statistics. Among the 1,034 criminals enrolled during the year, 181 crimes are represented, burglary and larceny being prevalent, numbering 152. Religiously considered, those of Methodist parents predominated, with 377 Catholics, 223 Baptists, Presbyterians 95, Lutherans 22, Christians 10, United Brethren 10, Episcopal 18, Disciple 11, 87 have no church, and there are six Hebrews, one Mennonite, one Seventh-day Adventist and one Shaker.

Mexico Rejoices.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 15.—News of the election of Mr. Cleveland was received here with great satisfaction and is certain to strengthen them in their contest against monopolies.

Mexican protectionists have employed the arguments of the American high tariff party, and the complete rout of that party is a tremendous blow to them.

Mr. Cleveland is greatly admired in this country as a friend to Mexico, with whose president he has been always on pleasant terms.

STRIKE ENDED.

Indignation Among New Orleans Workmen.

Over the Matter in Which the Strike Was Settled—The Committee Representing the Interests of the Laborers Bitterly Resented Treachery Charged.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—The leaders of the strikers have compromised with the various organizations and committees and the strike is virtually over.

There is intense indignation among a large number of workmen over the manner in which the strike was settled, and the committee of five representing the interests of the laborers are openly denounced and charged with treachery and having sold out the labor element. A thousand men were crowded into Exchange alley Friday morning.

They included whites and blacks and represented many men who had been unable to secure their places again. They have been out for nearly three weeks and their families are in want. The leaders, they said, had sold them out and had surrendered every point that had been contended for.

The street car companies have about broken up the car drivers' union, and the contract that was broken will undoubtedly remain so. The companies will now employ union and non-union men indiscriminately. All the ringleaders on the street car lines have been discharged, and the unions are so badly disorganized that the can not do anything in the matter.

NO. 1 BATTLESHIP.

She Will Not Be a Speedy Vessel, But Very Strong.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The expert engineer of the bureau of steam engineering have just completed the revised specifications for the engines and boilers of the sea-going battleship No. 1, which will be the largest vessel in the United States navy. Notwithstanding the great size of the vessel, she will be completed in 1895, and will not be a particularly speedy craft as vessels are now rated in these days of naval progress. But that is because she is to be heavily armored; not "protected" like the New York, in certain vital parts, she will be covered by a heavy armor-plating capable of resisting the armor-piercing projectiles of great guns. The great weight of this armor has obliged the naval architects to reduce the weight allowance of the engines and boilers, and that meant a reduction in speed. She will be a slow steamer, but she will be a powerful one.

A SWINDLER NABBED.

Indications That He Has Caught Many Ohio Hucksters.

In His Pockets Were Found Letters, Bills, Pawn Tickets and Other Papers From Over Twenty Cities in That State—Believed to Be a Shrewd Crook.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 12.—"What will my wife say when she hears it? What will my friends think of me?" dopiously said a jauntily dressed young man who stood twitching a gold-headed cane in Chief Detective O'Connell's private office, Friday afternoon. He was neatness personified, and a shudder of horror came upon him as he was ushered into the gloomy "bull pen" at the jail on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. The young man was Clifton E. Hupp, of Columbus, O., and he claims to be a patent and sole proprietor of the "Perfection" mail box. He has been working through all the cities and towns of Ohio, according to his own statement, and in his pocket were found letters, bills, pawn tickets and other papers from over twenty cities in that state. He is a Mason and Knight of Pythias. His business is to establish agents for the Perfection Mail Box Co., and he has evidently had wonderful success in securing agents. The detective believes he is a shrewd crook, and this seems to be in part substantiated by the causes which led to his arrest.

Hupp came here from Cincinnati, and took rooms at the Waverly. He advertised in the papers for agents. Many applicants went to him, and with a large number of men he drew up contracts for the sole agency of Louisville. Among the number were Shirley McConkey and G. G. Lewis, who claimed to be friends. They compared contracts, and found that both had the exclusive agency here. For the privilege they had paid $8 each, and upon investigation it was found that many agents were also Louisville's exclusive agents. McConkey took out a warrant for Hupp's arrest on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. He was at once arrested by Detective McCormick. If Hupp is a fraud, he has worked the state of Ohio for thousands of dollars, and he has been a shrewd crook.

OUR INDIANS.

They Neglect Their Farms to Run After Government Rations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The attention of Indian Commissioner Morgan was Monday called to a press dispatch from Guthrie, Ok., stating in effect that there were well-grounded fears of trouble among the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians in Oklahoma during the approaching winter, because of the reduction in the food supply furnished by the government, and stating that even now they were in a state of great distress for want of food. For this condition of affairs, the dispatch stated, the government is by many persons held directly responsible. Commissioner Morgan said: "It will be a sufficient reply to this statement to give the facts regard to what the Cheyenne and Arapahoes have actually received. They number 3,300. Since the year 1889 there has been expended for their benefit for rations, clothing, employes, etc., the sum of $1,109,850, in fulfillment of treaty obligations; there has also been expended in their behalf for the same purpose since 1873, the sum of $3,293,600, all of which was a gratuity, given by congress to supply their necessities and promote their civilization, and not called for by any treaty."

A call will be issued very soon for a meeting of the house committee on appropriations at noon on Monday (November 20) next. This will give the committee about a week's time in which to prepare some of the regular annual appropriation bills for the action of congress when it meets for the second session.

Death of Laban T. Moore.

The death of Col. Laban T. Moore, which took place at his home in Catlettsburg, Ky., Thursday morning, takes from the state one of her purest and best citizens. As soldier, jurist, legislator and citizen, his name is without a blemish and his fame without a cloud. He was about sixty-six years of age, and leaves a wife and five daughters, as noble women as ever brightened the home of any man. His domestic life was a poem of peace and happiness. Never an impatient word was spoken there, never a selfish thought, never a disingenuous action. All was serene and frank and affectionate. Such was the man, and such his fortunate children. There is a less in such a home which, could it be given fully to the world, would brighten and bless the earth in its fruitful gladness.

The cause of his death was heart trouble, an ailment with which he has at times suffered for several years. He leaves a small estate, but a rich legacy to his children in a spotless name and a noble nature.

He was a distinguished lawyer and one of the most highly esteemed men of the State. He was an ex-congressman, ex-State Senator and one of the leading spirits of the late Constitutional Convention.

Hon. Laban T. Moore was born Jan. 13, 1826, in Cabell county Va., and was of German parentage. After completing his education, which was obtained chiefly at Marietta College, he began to practice law and was located for a time at Mt. Sterling, Ky. He afterward moved to Louisa, Lawrence county, and while there was the Whig candidate in 1859 for Congressman in that district. He was elected, and it was during this time that he delivered his celebrated speech on "An Undivided Country." At the expiration of his term he was offered the renomination, but declined the honor. At the beginning of the war he raised and became Colonel of the Fourteenth Kentucky United States Infantry. For many years he resided in Catlettsburg, but his ability as a lawyer and his fame as an orator, have made his name familiar all over the country. In 1850 Col. Moore was married to Miss Sarah Everett, a daughter of Col. John Everett, of Virginia.—Lexington Observer.

Official Count.

The official count of the result of last week's election showed the following majorities, all Democratic: Democratic Electors, 283; Halzergrig, Appellate Judge, 404; A. J. Wilson, Sheriff, 315; Al. Carter, Clerk, 257; Fannin, Commissioner, 280. Brent received 1717 votes, Kinner 1720 and Redwine 1715. The total number of ballots cast in the county was 3185.

Amos Shinkle Dead.

Amos Shinkle, the millionaire philanthropist of Covington, well known here through his liberality to the M. E. Church at this place, died suddenly at his home last Sunday. He was seventy-four years old and had celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage only three days before his death. He was worth $2,500,000, every cent of which he had accumulated himself. His donations amounted annually to $30,000. He leaves a wife and one son.

Important Arrest.

Wm. Wilkinson, a representative of the Grannan Detective Agency of Cincinnati, arrested John C. Tipton on Hewitt creek, in Logan county, W. Va., a few days ago on the charge of killing two men, stealing two mules and forging an order for $50, at Jonesboro, Tenn. A guard was shot in the foot while making the arrest. Tipton was acting in the capacity of a Baptist preacher at the time he was arrested, and it is reported that he turned the tables on the detectives by having them jailed for disturbing the peace. He is a bad man, a cousin of Talton Hall and does not deny the charges of murder, but claims to have been acquitted for them. He also admits having killed five other men, but declares he was acquitted in each instance.

A modest, but very worthy Louisa couple united their fortunes and futures Wednesday at noon. The parties were Mr. T. S. McClure and Miss Mary B. Davis, and they were married at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. J. S. Cox. A very limited number of guests witnessed the happy event. Mr. and Mrs. McClure left on the four o'clock train for Cincinnati, where they will stop a few days, after which they will extend their trip to Chicago or the East.

The bride is an estimable and popular young lady of culture and refinement and possesses the qualities of mind and heart which go to make up the desirable companion and helpmate. The groom stands high in the estimation of all who know him, being a gentleman of strict integrity, model habits and pleasant manner. The marriage is undoubtedly a congenial union and one which promises unalloyed happiness. That these promises may be verified and that prosperity may ever attend them is the wish of the NEWS.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

We are glad to see the Louisa Roller Mills running steadily, notwithstanding that no effort to push the business is now being made. They make a fine grade of flour which they find no difficulty in placing upon the market. The experience of the past, which has required a run of 144 hours every week, proves the advantages of this place as a milling point and the popularity of the product of the Louisa Roller Mills. It is said that the business will be placed upon a larger scale soon and the mill run to its utmost capacity. They will have no difficulty in controlling as much business as they can handle in the Sandy valley.

To the officers and members of Louisa Sunday School, M. E. Church South.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from this world our beloved sister and classmate, Mrs. Elizabeth Dixon, to occupy with Him a mansion prepared for her in the Celestial City where sickness, sin and death can never enter; be it therefore

Resolved, That we as a Sunday School have lost a most valuable member, the Church a faithful worker, and although we greatly miss her presence among us we know that our loss is her eternal gain.

2d. That we as a class mourn the absence of our loved classmate whose place is made forever vacant, yet we are consoled with the thought that although her sufferings here were very severe, she now rests in the "Beautiful City" where sorrow and pain are not known.

3d. That we extend to the bereaved husband and family of our dear sister Christian sympathy, praising God that the consolation of His grace may abound to them in this season of sorrow, that the God she worshiped may be their God, and in the sweet bye and bye they may be reunited an unbroken family around our Father's throne above.

"The Golden Bells Rang The Dirge."

Colonel Amos Shinkle died at his home in Covington, Ky., Sunday, Nov. 13, and a memorial meeting in his honor will be held at the M. E. Church of this place next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Revs. Hiner and Akers will participate in the service with the pastor of the church.

Brother Roland T. Burns and other laymen are expected to add words of interest to the occasion. Dr. Wroten is requested to take charge of the music. According to agreement there will be no service at the other churches at this hour.

A DESPERADO KILLED.

Frank Phillips Meets His Deserts.

On the 7th of this month Frank Phillips, one of Kentucky's desperados, received two shots, and probably either would have settled the work for him. We learn that he (Phillips) came to the mouth of Peter creek, where he was shot, to raise a general racket, and for the first time in his life met one that was his equal.

Phillips is the man that took a hand in kidnapping a lot of the Hatfield gang of West Virginia and handing them over to the Kentucky authorities. He also killed Capt. Vance and wounded Capt. Hatfield.

While passing there Tuesday we saw a crowd of men standing near the place with Winchester in their hands ready for another assault.

We learn that Phillips, if he lives, will be handed over to the West Virginia authorities.

G. G. Peters came down an embankment and Phillips asked him what he was going to do with that gun? Peters replied that he was going over the river.

Phillips told him to give up the gun. Peters resisted, saying the gun belonged to him.

Phillips drew a 38 Smith & Wesson pistol, struck Peters on the head and across the hand knocking him down. He then took the gun and struck him twice on the head.

As soon as Peters recovered he got out of the way, and shooting commenced. George Yates was shot, it is supposed, by Phillips.

We are not able to say who did the shooting. At this writing Phillips is alive.—Sandy News Era.

G. G. Peters is from this county, a son of Chas. F. Peters, who lives a few miles above here. He is engaged with his father in hauling timber in that section. He was here this week and showed some pretty serious bruises. The country will rejoice at Phillips' removal.

LATER: Phillips has since died. He said a man named Wolford shot him.

Mailing Money.

It is not until a person has lost a five or ten-dollar bill sent through the mails that he feels there is something or somebody sadly immoral in the service. The practice of sending paper money through the mails is a very foolish one. It can be easily proven. Place a five-dollar bill in an envelope. Now smell it. There you have it. There is nothing on earth that smells like paper money and a thief expert in his business with good olfactory nerves can detect the presence of money in an envelope at any stage of the game. It is well to remember before sending paper money unregistered that "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" the average mail thief beats the "heathen Chinese."—Chicago News.
